

Richardson Maritime Museum Works With Dorchester County Youths From The Department Of Juvenile Services

The Richardson Maritime Museum has partnered with the Dorchester County Department of Juvenile Services to provide opportunities for youths within its program to participate in boatbuilding projects at the Boatworks.

Robert Barnett, Angel Creighton, Adrien Keene and Tyrell Merritt recently spent three days building one of the Boatworks' pulling skiffs under the supervision of volunteer boatwrights Frank Newton, Ray Henderson and Ken Guelta.

More projects with DJS are planned, as we work together for the youth of the community.
